

CITY TAX RATE IS RAISED 23 CENTS

Budget For 1925 Calls For Expenditure of $76,000 Compared With $63,214 Raised Last Year

MAYOR'S SALARY DOUBLED

Appropriation of $1,020 for Legal Department, Whereas in Past it Has Been Only $300

The city council in their session Tuesday night adopted the budget for 1925 operating expenses for the city, which will require a little more than $76,000, and fixed the total tax rate at $1.03 on the hundred dollars. The budget this year was based on an 80 cent rate, and raised $63,214. This is an increase of 23 cents in the rate and of almost $13,000 in the estimated expenses for next year.

Foremost among the outstanding items that was increased in the budget for next year is the double increase in the salary of the mayor, who has been receiving $600 a year in the past, and under the new budget adopted, his salary is raised to $1,200. The legal department of the city has operated in the past on $300 a year, and the budget now calls for $1,020.

At the same council meeting, the economic blow fell upon John Singer, street sweeper for 14 years in the business district, whose salary of $20 a week was reduced to $15. Councilmen voiced the opinion that the job wasn't worth the $20 a week anymore although most of the business men will assert that the street cleaner is on the job early of mornings, and takes care of a great deal of rubbish that collects on the streets down town.

The two departments were the only ones that showed an increase. In the past $500 has been appropriated for engineer services, and the budget for next year creates a salary of $900 a year for an engineer.

The salary of the mayor, in being doubled, is set out as $600 for mayor, and $600 for city judge. The statutes provide that in cities of the fourth class, not having a city judge, the mayor can act in that capacity at a salary of $600, provided that an ordinance has been passed to take care of the combined office.

On March 5 two ordinances were passed, one abolishing the board of public works, and the other abolishing the board of public safety, but there was no ordinance passed that justified the increase of the salary of the mayor to $1,200.

The salary of the firemen was continued for next year at $6,000, and no provisions made to add any new.

"I DID NOT," WORDS OF M'COY TO JUDGE

Shouts Denial of Murder When Arraigned on Grand Jury Indictment in Los Angeles

RECOVERS FROM BRAINSTORM

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 20—"I did not."

His hair disheveled, eyes gleaming wildly and a scowl crossing his face, Kid McCoy, former champion pugilist, and lover, almost shouted the words in Superior Judge Crawford's court today when he heard the indictment read charging him with the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his latest sweetheart.

Quailing under the stern glare of his attorneys, the "Kid" relaxed into silence and crunched in his chair while his counsel asked and received extension of his case until Monday for pleading.

With the formal murder complaint hanging over his head McCoy came through the night without a fresh outbreak of the "brainstorm" which gripped him yesterday.

A grand jury indictment voted late yesterday charging McCoy with the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his "ninth great love", with robbery on four counts and with assault to commit murder on three counts, failed to arouse within the "Kid" any new frenzy of excitement. He spent a quiet night in his new cell in the county jail and apparently slept soundly, jailers reported.

CONFIDENT OF A MAJORITY

German Government Circles London Pact Will Pass

Berlin, Aug. 20—Government circles are confident today of obtaining the necessary two-thirds majority for ratification of the pact of London.

Should the Nationalists adopt an over-mild attitude towards the Dawes-Young plan, they will lose many adherents and if they become over-antagonistic, they will suffer reverses at the elections.

Various parties are meeting today to decide what attitude to take toward the pact.

The reichstag must decide swiftly whether there is a new two-thirds majority available for the Dawes legislation, as the agreement must be signed by August 30.

LIGHTNING CAUSE OF BARN'S BURNING

Farm Buildings Belonging to Willard Amos and Fred Goddard are Destroyed by Fire

EACH CARRIED INSURANCE

Sixty Tons of Hay, Farm Tools and Calf Lost on Amos Farm—City Pumper Called

Two barns were struck by lightning and destroyed during the storm that passed over this vicinity early Tuesday night, with big losses being sustained at each place. The barns were located on the Willard Amos farm, south of here on the New Salem road, and on the Fred Goddard farm in Richland township.

Insurance in each case was carried, but will not cover the losses.

At the Amos farm, the lightning struck about 5:30 yesterday evening. The barn was an unusually large one, and was set on fire all over by the bolt. In the loft were 60 tons of hay, which added to the intensity of the fire.

It is understood that Mr. Amos carried $3,000 insurance, with $2,000 on the building, and $1,000 on the contents. The live stock was saved from the burning building, excepting a calf, which perished. Most of the farming tools also were destroyed.

An appeal for help was sent here, and the pumper from the fire station, with three firemen, went to the farm, but the barn was too far gone to be saved, and it burned quickly.

This was the third fire within a half mile range during the past year, and there has been frequent fires in that vicinity recently.

The large barn on the Fred Goddard farm in Richland township was struck by lightning about 8 o'clock last night, and the fire soon was beyond control. The contents of the barn, including grain, hay and implements could not be saved, and was destroyed.

The loss here will also reach several thousand dollars, because the barn was a large one. The owner carried $2,000 insurance on the building, it is understood. The farm is tenanted by Walter Brodie.

GIVES METHOD TO CONTROL WORMS

Dr. Wickwire, Government Agent, Recommends Rotation of Hog Lots as Farmer Rotates Crops

IN COUNTY FOR TEN DAYS

Use Farmers Make of His Time Depends on Benefit Derived, County Agent Points Out

"There are three things that tend to make hog raising unprofitable—breed, feed and disease, and our object is to find the disease and suggest remedies."

This was the statement at a meeting of farmers at Webb School house Tuesday evening by Dr. Wickwire, a government veterinarian, who is spending ten days in Rush county to conduct a sanitation campaign among hog producers.

The first day of the campaign, which opened Monday, was spent in Noble township, and Tuesday and part of today in Rushville township. A meeting similar to the one last night will be held at Gowdy tonight. This afternoon two farm demonstrations were held near Rushville.

"Dr. Wickwire is a government employee and Rush county has been allotted ten days of his time," Herschel VanMatre, county agent, stated today. "The benefits derived from his visit depend upon the way we make use of his time."

Farmers who wish to consult with Dr. Wickwire are urged to get in touch with the county agent.

Hogs are free from worms at birth, Dr. Wickwire explained at the Webb meeting, but pick them up in the form of eggs from the ground in their feed, having been deposited by the older hogs. The eggs hatch in the hog's digestive tract, get into the blood stream and then the liver, heart and lungs, according to the veterinarian.

The worms spend considerable time in the lungs and grow from one-sixteenth to one-half an inch in length, he said. They are then coughed up by the hog through the windpipe into the back of the mouth and are swallowed back into the digestive tract. There they settle down and make a growth sometimes a foot long.

"This is the life history of the round worm," Dr. Wickwire stated. "One female can lay 80 million eggs and it is nothing uncommon where

HE SEES NO DEGREE OF RESPONSIBILITY

Assistant State's Attorney Resumes Argument in Hearing on Franks Murder Case

LEOPOLD VIEWS DISCUSSED

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 20—"There is no degree of responsibility and if responsibility exists at all it exists for all purposes," Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Marshall declared today in resuming his argument before Chief Justice John R. Caverly that Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb are fully responsible for their killing of Robert Franks, 14-year old school boy. Taking up Leopold, Marshall said that the youthful prisoner asserted himself to be a superman and above the law.

"It was said that if Leopold thought it right to commit a murder, so far as he was concerned, it was all right," Marshall said. "What he did was alright because he did it. The law had no application to him."

Marshall likened Leopold's attitude toward the law to the Pies case of about 35 years ago, when seven anarchists set off a huge bomb on the west side here, killing several people. Marshall said that two of the conspirators were hanged. He pointed out that the conspirators had substantially the same views of the law as Leopold.

FARM BRINGS $135 AN ACRE

CONTRACT TO PAVE FIFTH STREET LET

Andrews Asphalt Co., Only Bidder, Expects to Complete Improvement by November 1

HAS MORGAN STREET JOB

Petition For Paving of Fourth Street From Perkins to Harrison Presented to Council

The contract for paving Fifth street was awarded Tuesday night at the regular session of the city council, when the Andrews Asphalt Paving Company of Hamilton, O., was the only bidder, and their bid amounting to practically $13,000 was accepted.

At the same time a petition, asking for the paving of Fourth street, from Perkins to Harrison street, was presented and signed by several property owners living on the street. On account of the C. & W. railroad going down the center of this street, no action was taken on the petition last night, pending the investigation of the franchise that the railroad has.

The paving of Fifth street from Harrison east to Perkins with asphalt will commence soon, according to a representative of the company, and the work will be completed by November 1. The contractor is the same firm that has the Morgan street asphalt paving job.

The Fourth street paving proposition will be considered as soon as the franchise can be found. If the railroad possesses only a right-of-way, the street can be paved from curb to curb, including the portion between the ties.

The garbage bids were opened, and three men offered bids. The bid of Joe Caldwell, present garbage collector, was accepted. His bid was $825 for the year. The other bids were Frank Hutson, $965 and R. F. Powell, $840.

On account of the failure to receive the $4,800 loan advertised for this week, the council will make another attempt to secure the money for the general fund, and will receive bids again on September 2, at ten o'clock.

The new water well located south of Rushville has been completed and the test is unusually high. The next step is to pump the water into the city reservoir, and bids will be received at the next meeting of the

LOCAL DEMOCRATS GOING

Sixth District Meeting to be Held at Connersville Friday

A large number of Democratic workers of this city and county are expected to attend the Sixth District Democratic meeting to be held at Connersville at one o'clock Friday afternoon.

It is announced that among the prominent politicians present will be State Chairman Walter S. Chambers, District Chairman Charles A. Hack, State Vice-Chairman Mrs. A. P. Flint, of Logansport; Carleton McCulloch, candidate for governor; Arthur Hamrick, candidate for secretary of state; Robert Bracken, candidate for auditor of state; Harry Arnold, candidate for treasurer of state; Miss Gertrude McHugh, secretary of the state committee, and a number of other candidates for state offices. Lawrence Handley, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, is also expected to be present.

PARK LIGHT PLAN WELL UNDER WAY

Better Business Organization Makes Contract With Dill Foundry Company of This City

LIGHT COMPLETE FOR $50

Fraternal Orders, Business and Commercial Bodies Asked to Donate a Light Post

First Contribution

W. W. Potts, 6427 West 23rd Street, Chicago, is the first person to donate to the fund for the park lighting plan. Mr. Potts, while camping at the grounds in Memorial park one day last week, heard about the proposed plan, and he wanted to be the first to offer a contribution. He gave Park Custodian a dollar bill and told him to give it to the proper person.

The plan to install pedestal lights along the Memorial Park boulevard that is now under construction, has taken another step, and the Better Rush County Organization today appealed to Commercial, civic, fraternal, religious organizations and individuals, asking for their support.

The plan is to install 33 of the light posts, commencing at Ninth street, and running along the boulevard to North Main street, and an attractive price has been arranged with the Dill Foundry company of this city.

The local foundry company will mould the light posts, which will have one light at the top, wire them and completely equip them, and furnish the under ground wire cable for $50 a light. The city will mount them, and attach the wires.

When the movement was first originated, several lodges and church organizations in the city wanted to donate a light post, and it is upon this plan that an attempt will be made to have the attractive lights installed for the entire length of the park boulevard, a distance of about 1 1/2 miles.

The light posts will probably be placed between the driveway and the park, and in this way they will throw an additional supply of light into the park. As the park commences at

DATE IS STILL INDEFINITE

State Supt. Burris Will Not Resign Sept. 1 as First Planned

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20—The date when Benjamin F. Burris, state superintendent of public instruction, will resign that position to become president of the Muncie branch of the Indiana State Normal School was still undecided today.

He held a conference with Governor Branch Tuesday but they could reach no decision. Some time ago he indicated his desire to resign September 1 but this was forestalled by objections of schoolmen to appointment of H. N. Sherwood, of Franklin to complete the term.

DAWES ATTACKS SEN. LAFOLLETTE

Republican Nominee For Vice President Brands LaFollette and Bryan as "Radicals"

GIVES NOMINATING SPEECH

States LaFollette Has Platform Demanding Public Ownership of Railroads and Attacks Courts

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Aug. 20—Acting as the spear-head of the Republican battle lines in the northwest, Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominee for vice president, has initiated a vigorous attack on Senator Robert M. LaFollette, candidate for president on the independent ticket and on Governor Charles W. Bryan, vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket. Dawes branded them as "radicals". He attacked LaFollette for attempting to tamper with the Constitution.

In his speech accepting the nomination, delivered last night on the broad grounds of the Dawes mansion in Evanston, Chicago suburb, Dawes dealt with only a few issues, devoting himself largely to an assault on LaFollette and on the "one radical candidate on the Democratic ticket."

"Robert N. LaFollette, leading the army of extreme radicalism, has a platform demanding public ownership of railroads and attacking our courts, which are a fundamental and Constitutional safeguard of American citizenship," Dawes said.

"Our nation is asked to leave important Constitutional moorings to embark again into those contests through which it has fought up to the establishment of good government. Through the war of the revolution, through which it has fought up to the World war, our people have struggled to maintain our Constitutional principles. They are asked to follow into an attack upon them massed behind an aggressive personality, a heterogeneous collection of those opposing the existing order of things, the greatest section of which, the socialists, flies the red flag, and into what? Into confusion and conflict of ideas and ideals and into the re-opening of war upon those fundamental principles of human liberty and the inalienable rights of men which are giving in this country safety and opportunity to the humblest, and to establish which the blood of our forefathers was shed. This is the predominant

NEW NASH SEDAN TURNS OVER; TWO PEOPLE HURT

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gartner Of Cincinnati Narrowly Escape Death When Driver Loses Control

DRIVING AT A RAPID RATE

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gartner of Cincinnati narrowly escaped death when a large Nash sedan they were driving from the factory at Kenosha, Wis., turned over near the Charles Johnson farm, four miles west of Rushville on the state road, about five o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Gartner suffered a severely injured right shoulder, a bad laceration of the right arm and possibly some fractured ribs, in addition to many serious bruises on her body. Two of Mr. Gartner's ribs were fractured and he was severely injured on the head.

They had recovered sufficiently, so that they expected to return by rail to their home this afternoon.

Mr. Gartner was driving at a rapid rate of speed and lost control of the car when he attempted to pass another machine after going around a state highway department truck and road drag.

The sedan had the appearance of having turned completely over. The body was caved in on the right side and both fenders were mashed and the body was also scratched on the right side. Oil had run out of the crank case, indicating that the auto was upside down.

Mr. Gartner is an agent of the Nash Cincinnati Motor Co., Nash dealers.

The Lord is good:—Serve the Lord with gladness: come before His presence with singing. For the Lord is good: his mercy is everlasting: and his truth endureth to all generations.—Psalm 100: 2, 3.

Prayer:—Our Father, we know that Thou art good, and that Thou art more willing to give us Thy Spirit than an earthly parent is to give good gifts unto his children.

Home Issues

The presidential campaign in the United States, now in full swing, is to be fought out on home issues.

And well that it may, because the citizens of the United States are more concerned about their government at home than they should be about relations with neighboring nations, though it is an essential part of the government's function to maintain peaceful relations with other groups of peoples.

President Coolidge has declared for "common sense in government", and it will be the campaign slogan of the republicans, in the continuation of administration efforts to put more economy in government.

John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, put foremost in his campaign keynote, "Honesty in Government", thus injecting into the campaign the oil scandals which resulted in the resignation of three members of the cabinet whom President Coolidge "inherited" from his predecessor.

Senator LaFollette, running as an independent candidate, wants the "government returned to the people".

The more hopeful situation in Europe, brought about by the pact of London, in which the reparations tangle was settled with the aid of the Dawes-Young plan, practically eliminates foreign relations from the campaign and leaves the candidates free to do battle on home issues.

All this should work for betterment of the government, if the attention of the people can be focused for a few days on that which they take all too much for granted.

It may be possible to impress upon them that the government is in a measure a living thing, that it was not built according to a certain plan, but is elastic and grows and develops to suit the changing needs of the people.

Quoting the Bible

A southern manufacturer, writing a letter against prohibition to the Manufacturers Record, says: "We are commanded to eat and drink to-day for tomorrow we die."

The Record points to the utter folly of the man in thinking that he was quoting the Bible, for this reference was to the Jews, who failing to follow the warning of the prophet, and full of hiality, said: "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die."

It was not a commandment, but people have a failing of quoting the Bible to suit their purpose.

The way the scriptures are misinterpreted and disconnected passages brought together to uphold some particular view, might be illustrated in the old saying, showing harm that may be done by misplacing Scriptural passages:

"Judas went out and hanged himself."

"Go thou and do likewise."

Fourth Street Paving

A petition for the paving of Fourth street from Perkins to Harrison streets was presented to the city council Tuesday night and councilmen are said to be considering the advisability of having plans drawn, if the petition is acted upon favorably calling for the paving of a small strip on each side of the C. I. & W. railroad.

This would undoubtedly be a mistake not to include the whole street in the improvement plan, and thus make it possible to get out of Fourth street the use that has been denied the people of the city because of the way the railroad cuts down the middle of the thoroughfare.

If Fourth street were paved from curb to curb, it would be of great service in solving the automobile parking problem that is growing more difficult of solution every day.

The condition the street is now in makes it useless for parking because the railroad utilizes practically half of the space.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—To the born fighting man, years or occasions do not count. At any age, under any circumstances, he is ready for battle.

Nelson A. Miles, for instance, who at the age of 25 was a brigadier general commanding an army corps, and at 26 a major general, cited for conspicuous gallantry at Roanoke Station, Chancellorsville and Spottsylvania Court House, at the age of 85 still instinctively reaches for a gun when the occasion seems to demand.

General Miles, retired from the army for now a score of years, lives in an apartment house midway between the War Department and the Army and Navy Club. But 20-odd years of theoretical retirement has not dimmed his fighting spirit.

EARLY on the morning of Aug. 6, just two days before Miles' 85th birthday, the watchmen in the apartment house heard the sound of running water in the general's apartment. Thinking a pipe had burst, they first tried to rouse the occupants of the apartment by ringing the bell and pounding on the door. This failing, they decided no one was at home, and proceeded in an attempt to force the door.

They hadn't proceeded far in this, however, when they got the shock of their lives.

The muzzles of a couple of business-looking guns suddenly protruded through the transom and a coldly business-like voice informed them:

"One move more out there and I'll blow your brains out."

GENERAL MILES, the man who rounded up Sitting Bull, Natchez, Crazy Horse and Geronimo, was on the other end of the guns.

He had been sleeping soundly, and the bell ringings and rappings had not awakened him. But the attempts to force the door did. No fort he ever held had ever been taken by storm, and he rallied to the defense in true military style. The real reaction of a real fighting man!

THE "girl with the pull" is the bane of the government's bureau chiefs.

These young ladies, normally among the more pulchritudinous, usually land their jobs largely on the recommendation of senators or representatives who know them or their families "back home" and who are interested in seeing them taken care of on the government pay roll.

In many cases girls so placed prove efficient and valuable. In many others, however, the official pull that has helped land them in a job is counted on to save the job for them, no matter whether they work or play.

It is among this group that the larger number of "A. W. O. L." workers are found. They go on the theory that the "boss" won't dare fire them for their delinquencies, because if he does "Senator So-and-So" will see that he gets his.

AND the joke of it is that it does work. Only in the more flagrant cases does the bureau head invite the enmity of a senator or congressman by firing an employee known to be a congressional "pet."

An unusually flagrant case, still within the memory of most Washingtonians, had to do with a young lady who obtained her position by intercession of no less a personage than the then occupant of the White House himself.

After an unusually warm warning against her absences and idleness, this young woman frankly told her chief:

"You don't dare fire me. If you do the president will have me reinstated."

Not to be bluffed, the bureau chief attached the official "can." But the girl made good her claim. The next week she was "reinstated!"

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Friday, Aug. 20, 1909

Lieut. Gov. Frank J. Hall was elected president of the Old Settlers' Association at the annual meeting held at the fair grounds yesterday. Alvin R. Holden is the new secretary and Joseph R. Woods was re-elected treasurer.

At the meeting of the First Baptist church last evening Pastor E. C. Myers, James Alsop and Mrs. J. W. Gartin were elected as delegates to represent this church at the Flat Rock Baptist Association which meets at Burney, Decatur county, Indiana, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Congratulations are in order, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Saniter." This is the telegram from Brooklyn, N. Y., which Miss Lenore Norris read at her home in North Morgan street with a feeling partially of surprise and expectancy.

Mrs. E. H. Saniter was formerly Miss Mamie Kemp of this city. She, accompanied by Misses Daisy Beale and Marie Clark, left one week ago yesterday for a pleasure trip to Atlantic City, but now Misses Beale and Clark will be compelled to return home as Mrs. Saniter will remain in her beautiful new Brooklyn home, which her husband had prepared ready to move into as soon as they were married.

The old Guy Kelso farm, consisting of 150 acres, owned by James E. Watson, Dr. F. G. Hackleman and Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, was sold yesterday to the Barber brothers.

Theo. H. Reed & Son are paying the following prices for grain: July wheat, $1.02; Corn, through elevator 64; new oats, 32; timothy seed, 1.50. Other prices are, spring chickens per pound 12; hens on foot, 11; eggs, 18; butter, 17.

Harry McMillin is all smiles today as the result of a new arrival at his home in North Main street. A seven and one half pound girl was born to Mrs. McMillin this morning. The mother and child are doing nicely.

Mrs. Will Bliss entertained the Bridge Whist club at her home in North Perkins street Thursday afternoon.

The directors of the Rush county Chautauqua association held a meeting this afternoon to make plans for next year. A balance of $182 was reported from this year's chautauqua.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hodge went to Indianapolis this morning in Mr. Caldwell's machine to attend the automobile races.

Mrs. Earl Musselman and daughter and Mrs. Bert McBride returned to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon after a visit here with relatives.

Fair stuff is beginning to keep the east pike hot and dusty. Several race horse men took their stall to the grounds today and other attractions are beginning to come.

Byron Mauzy, formerly of this city, was defeated in the mayoralty race at San Francisco Tuesday.

U.S. Royal Cords

BALLOON ~ BALLOON-TYPE ~ HIGH PRESSURE
Built of Latex-treated Cords

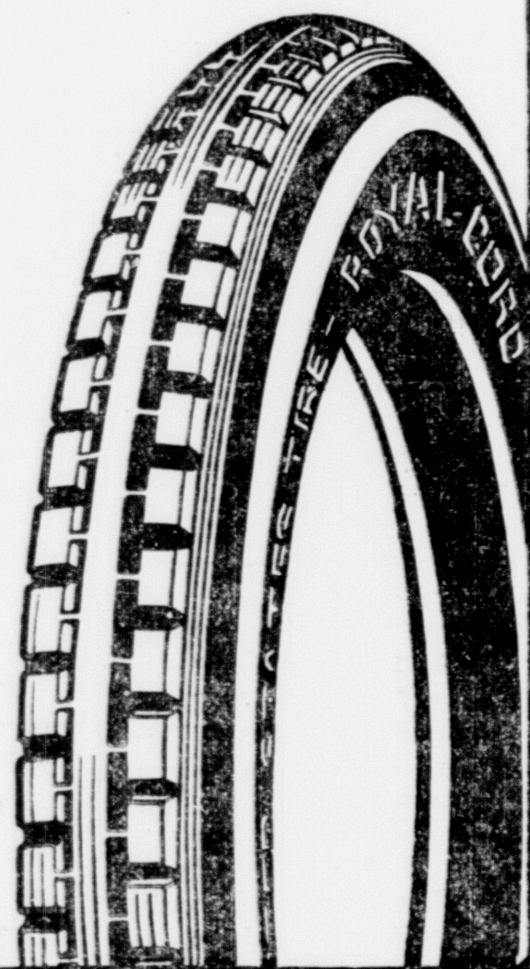

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

FOOTBALL TRAINING CAMP OPENS AUG. 25

Plans are going forward among High School Athletes in Indiana to Attend This Camp

TO BE AT CAMP CROSSLEY

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20—Plans are going forward among high school athletes in Indiana to attend the second high school football training camp to be held at Camp Crossley, Tippecanoe Lake, Aug. 25 to Sept. 5.

Camp Crossley is located one mile and a half west of North Webster, Indiana and is the Muncie Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp.

The idea of having high school athletes attend a football camp where they are taught the rudiments of the game originated with H. C. Pettijohn boys' work secretary of Muncie Y. M. C. A. and former Wabash college football star.

Pettijohn's idea in holding the camp was to teach the younger players the rudiments of the grid game, and in this way prevent injuries to the players. Most of the accidents to high school players result from their unfamiliarity of the game and their ignorance of the methods to protect themselves in the playing, according to coaches in the colleges.

The camp this year will be open to any high school football candidate. Among the coaches who will assist in training the boys are Knute Rockne, Notre Dame; Pete Vaughn, of Wabash, and Heze Clark of Rose Polytechnic.

Boys' camp Crossley started June 23 and was held continuously throughout the summer. The attendance was nearly double that of any previous season.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Ed Brown, Brooklyn outfielder, hit a homer in the eighth with one and beat the Pirates, 4-3.

Bunching hits in the pinches, the Giants beat the Reds 6-2 and increased their lead over the Pirates to four games.

Washington moved into second place by taking a doubleheader from the Tigers 4-3, and 5-3. Manager Buck Harris drove in the run in the ninth inning that won the first game.

George Uhle, pinch hitting in the ninth, smacked out a homer but the Athletics beat the Indians, 5-3 and took the series.

Flagstead's homer in the seventh inning with two on helped the Red Sox beat the Browns 11 to 5. Jacobson drove in three St. Louis runs with two doubles.

A Word To Women

A hundred and twenty-one thousand women would comprise a vast army. Yet a canvass was recently made among more than a number of women who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for feminine ailments. The result proved that ninety-eight out of every hundred reported benefit from its use. This is most remarkable evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of woman-kind, and should influence every sick and ailing woman to try it.

"The Fighting Coward"

Versatility is a much-abused word, but an actor who can rise to screen fame and popularity by gracefully portraying characters ranging from deep-dyed villains to virile and heroic men and imitable comedians is versatile.

Such is Ernest Torrence, the "Jack son" of "The Covered Wagon," Cousin Egbert of "Ruggles of Red Gap," and now "Gen. Orlando Jackson" in "The Fighting Coward," which opens today at the Princess theatre.

Oddly enough, Torrence, who first gained fame on the screen in powerful but villainous characters, was a comedian of international note on the stage. In real life, he is known to his intimates as the most genial and kindly of men. Conjure in your imagination a man portraying such characters, who has been and still is a master musician and singer, a musical comedy and farce comedian of Broadway fame.

Torrence is said to have his greatest role in "The Covered Wagon" in "The Fighting Coward." His cousin Egbert is that of a gambling, fighting man, who takes a fancy to a young fellow, who has ambitions to be considered a dangerous gun-fighter.

The picture is an adaptation by Walter Woods of the stage play, "Magnolia," by Booth Tarkington. Featured with Torrence are Mary Astor, Noah Beery, Phyllis Haver and Cullen Landis, and other include Bruce Covington, G. Raymond Nye, Richard Neal, Carmen Phillips, Helen Dunbar and Frank Jesson.

PARK LIGHT PLAN WELL UNDER WAY

Ninth street, the plan now is to start the lighting system at Ninth street, and extend north. The boulevard driveway is being extended in a measure to Ninth street, and when completed will be quite an addition to the park.

The Better Rush County organization today appealed to the lodges of the city, asking that they donate a light post. Business concerns, including factories and groups of business men, are asked to contribute a post, as well as other organizations and clubs in the city. Individuals who have the interests of the city at heart, are also asked to contribute a post or two.

The Dill Foundry company has figured the cost at the lowest level because of the slack season now, and the price is the best offered by any concern in the state. The light posts will be similar to the down-town posts, excepting that they will have only one light, instead of five.

The price of $50 includes the entire post, globe and wiring. The cost also includes the under ground cable for the electricity. The labor will be supplied by the city, and the electricity and future upkeep will be taken care of by the city.

GIVES METHOD TO CONTROL WORMS

hogs are raised several years in the same place, to find from 200 to 300 worms in a shoit three to five months old.

The method of control he suggested was rotation of hogs lots just as a farmer rotates his crops.

The object sought in the campaign is to lessen the ravages of the round worm and place swine breeding and feeding on a safer and saner basis.

council on the purchase of an electric pump to be installed at the well. A petition signed by several property owners living in East Tenth street, asked the city to lower the sewer system down the street, in order to afford better cellar drainage and to give the people of that portion of the street adequate sewerage.

The council took no action on the petition in view of the fact that the engineer declares it an impossible feat to lower the sewer, which would make the water go up hill. The council also has no direct supervision over the sewer system, because it is not owned by the city, but is owned by the property owners.

The water and light committee was given power to act in building a store house for supplies, which was recently recommended by the state board of accounts at the plant. The addition of a book keeper and store keeper at the plant will also be required and the committee will make an appointment in a few days, and a former employee at the plant is considered, because of his acquaintance with the operations.

A petition for a street light at Oliver street, near the Norris Fertilizer factory, was presented, and the matter turned over to the committee to investigate.

The council also voted to reduce the salary of John Singer, city street sweeper in the business district, from $20 a week to $15.

CITY TAX RATE RAISED 23 CENTS

firemen on account of the purchase of an additional fire truck.

One member of the police force will be given a vacation sometime during the year. The budget for this year was for $4,000 and for next year it is figured at $3,750. The salaries of the present police force figures $4,250 a year, while the new budget shows a shortage over this year. The shortage would indicate that some member of the force was not figured as having an all year job.

The rate of $1.03 includes a 3 cent levy for the Rushville library, which rate was asked by the board, and had to be given.

The councilmen contend that on account of the failure of the bond issue recently asked for, in which $30,000 was demanded and only $14,500 granted, that this $15,000 shortage is one of the causes for the higher rate for next year.

LIGHTNING CAUSE OF BARNS BURNING

The rain was of great benefit to the corn crop, according to the local weather bureau.

Comparatively little property damage was reported, but interurban schedules were disrupted on some of the lines out of Indianapolis. Nearly 500 cases of trouble were reported to the Indiana Bell Telephone company.

The heaviest downpour was at Martinsville, where three and one third inches fell. Columbus had 2.60 inches.

DAWES ATTACKS SEN. LAFOLLETTE

issue in this campaign.

Characterizing the Republican party as "the party of progressive conservatism," Dawes said:

"Lying, between these two armies of progressive conservatism and of radicalism, which are properly aligned upon this issue in the minds and conscience of the American people, is interposed the Democratic party with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue.

"In this situation, for which the American people alone are responsible, the Democratic party, as a party, instead of recruiting itself from the two battle lines, will suffer only the fate which befalls those who try to strangle in a real fight."

Dawes said that the Republican party, under the leadership of President Coolidge, has taken its stand firmly on the Constitution.

"Opposed to it, and in reality its chief, opponent, though the result may be to deadlock the contest for the presidency and make Bryanism succeed the Coolidge policy, is a movement of untried and dangerous radicalism," Dawes declared.

"With a platform drawn by one man, designed to soften as much as possible the apprehension as to what the movement really means, an attempt is made to induce those who are patriotic of heart but discontented with existing conditions, to join with the Socialists and other diverse elements opposing the existing order of things in a mobilization of extreme radicalism.

"A man is known by the company he keeps."

Dawes then called attention to the endorsement of LaFollette by the Socialist party.

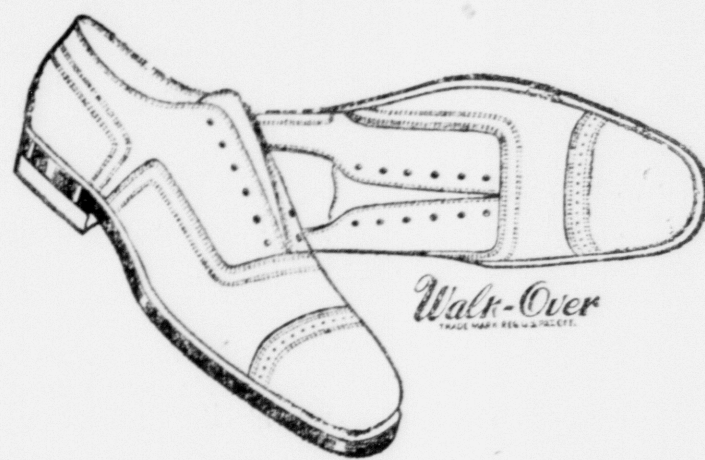

On August 29 Dawes will invade the home territory of Governor Bryan with a speech in Lincoln, Neb. There he will discuss the non-partisan and economic agricultural question, which he said is of such vital importance to the national welfare, that he could not discuss it here and give it the full consideration it demands.

Discussing the League of Nations, Dawes pointed to the enormous Re-

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Dr. and Mrs. H. V. McCully Going to Davenport, Iowa, Thursday

Dr. and Mrs. H. V. McCully will leave tomorrow morning for Davenport, Iowa, where they will attend a ten day review course and National Chiropractors Convention.

Dr. McCully states that this is an annual affair held by the Palmer School of Chiropractic for all Chiropractors so that the practitioners in the field may have the opportunity to keep abreast with the very latest in Chiropractic.

This year, he says, a new instrument known as the Neurocalometer will be announced and demonstrated, and that it has proven itself in Clinics of Palmer School to be of great benefit in aiding the Chiropractor to locate and remove the cause of disease. He is planning on purchasing one of the instruments to use in his practice here.

Dr. McCully's office in the Farmers' Trust Co., building will be closed until his return on Sept. 1st.

Arkansas Lady Says Mother Gave Her Cardui and She Had No More Trouble of This Kind.

Lamar, Ark.—Mrs. Edith Seeman, here, recently made the following statement describing her experience in the use of Cardui:

"I had pain in my back and sides; had sick headaches and my nose would bleed. I couldn't sit up at all.

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong.

"My mother took Cardui for a week, run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."

The foregoing is one out of thousands of statements which have been received from users of Cardui, the woman's tonic. If you are a sufferer from womanly ailments, try Cardui. It may be just what you need. At your dealer's.

CITY TAX RATE IS RAISED 23 CENTS

Budget For 1925 Calls For Expenditure of $76,600 Compared With $63,214 Raised Last Year

MAYOR'S SALARY DOUBLED

Appropriation of $1,020 for Legal Department, Whereas in Past It Has Been Only $300

The city council in their session Tuesday night adopted the budget for 1925 operating expenses for the city, which will require a little more than $76,000, and fixed the total tax rate at $1.03 on the hundred dollars. The budget this year was based on an 80 cent rate, and raised $63,214. This is an increase of 23 cents in the rate and of almost $13,000 in the estimated expenses for next year.

Foremost among the outstanding items that was increased in the budget for next year is the double increase in the salary of the mayor, who has been receiving $600 a year in the past, and under the new budget adopted, his salary is raised to $1,200. The legal department of the city has operated in the past on $300 a year, and the budget now calls for $1,020.

At the same council meeting, the economic blow fell upon John Singer, street sweeper for 14 years in the business district, whose salary of $20 a week was reduced to $15. Councilmen voiced the opinion that the job wasn't worth the $20 a week anymore, although most of the business men will assert that the street cleaner is on the job early of mornings, and takes care of a great deal of rubbish that collects on the streets down town.

The two departments were the only ones that showed an increase. In the past $500 has been appropriated for engineer services, and the budget for next year creates a salary of $900 a year for an engineer.

The salary of the mayor, in being doubled, is set out as $600 for mayor, and $600 for city judge. The statutes provide that in cities of the fourth class, not having a city judge, the mayor can act in that capacity at a salary of $600, provided that an ordinance has been passed to take care of the combined office.

On March 5 two ordinances were passed, one abolishing the board of public works, and the other abolishing the board of public safety, but there was no ordinance passed that justified the increase of the salary of the mayor to $1,200.

The salary of the firemen was continued for next year at $6,600, and no provisions made to add any new.

"I DID NOT," WORDS OF McCOY TO JUDGE

Shouts Denial of Murder When Arraigned on Grand Jury Indictment in Los Angeles

RECOVERS FROM BRAINSTORM

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 20—"I did not."

His hair disheveled, eyes gleaming wildly and a scowl crossing his face, Kid McCoy, former champion pugilist, and lover, almost shouted the words in Superior Judge Crick's court today when he heard the indictment read charging him with the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his latest sweetheart.

Quailing under the stern glare of his attorneys, the "Kid" relapsed into silence and crouched in his chair while his counsel asked and received extension of his case until Monday for pleading.

With the formal murder complaint hanging over his head McCoy came through the night without a fresh outbreak of the "brainstorm" which gripped him yesterday.

A grand jury indictment voted late yesterday charging McCoy with the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his "ninth great love", with robbery on four counts and with assault to commit murder on three counts, failed to arouse within the "Kid" any new frenzy of excitement. He spent a quiet night in his new cell in the county jail and apparently slept soundly, jailers reported.

CONFIDENT OF A MAJORITY

German Government Circles—London Pact Will Pass

Berlin, Aug. 20—Government circles are confident today of obtaining the necessary two-thirds majority for ratification of the pact of London.

Should the Nationalists adopt an over-mild attitude towards the Dawes-Young plan, they will lose many adherents and if they become over-antagonistic, they will suffer reverses at the elections.

Various parties are meeting today to decide what attitude to take towards the pact.

The reichstag must decide swiftly whether there is a new two-thirds majority available for the Dawes legislation, as the agreement must be signed by August 30.

LIGHTNING CAUSE OF BARNS BURNING

Farm Buildings Belonging to Willard Amos and Fred Goddard are Destroyed by Fire

EACH CARRIED INSURANCE

Sixty Tons of Hay, Farm Tools and Calf Lost on Amos Farm—City Pumper Called

Two barns were struck by lightning and destroyed during the storm that passed over this vicinity early Tuesday night, with big losses being sustained at each place. The barns were located on the Willard Amos farm, south of here on the New Salem road, and on the Fred Goddard farm in Richland township.

Insurance in each case was carried, but will not cover the losses.

At the Amos farm, the lightning struck about 5:30 yesterday evening. The barn was an unusually large one, and was set on fire all over by the bolt. In the loft were 60 tons of hay, which added to the intensity of the fire.

It is understood that Mr. Amos carried $3,000 insurance, with $2,000 on the building, and $1,000 on the contents. The live stock was saved from the burning building, excepting a calf, which perished. Most of the farming tools also were destroyed.

An appeal for help was sent here, and the pumper from the fire station, with three firemen, went to the farm, but the barn was too far gone to be saved, and it burned quickly.

This was the third fire within a half mile range during the past year, and there has been frequent fires in that vicinity recently.

The large barn on the Fred Goddard farm in Richland township was struck by lightning about 8 o'clock last night, and the fire soon was beyond control. The contents of the barn, including grain, hay and implements could not be saved, and was destroyed.

The loss here will also reach several thousand dollars, because the barn was a large one. The owner carried $2,000 insurance on the building, it is understood. The farm is tenanted by Walter Brodie.

Stiff Wind Sweeping Across Bay Keeps U. S. Aviators in Iceland

(By United Press)

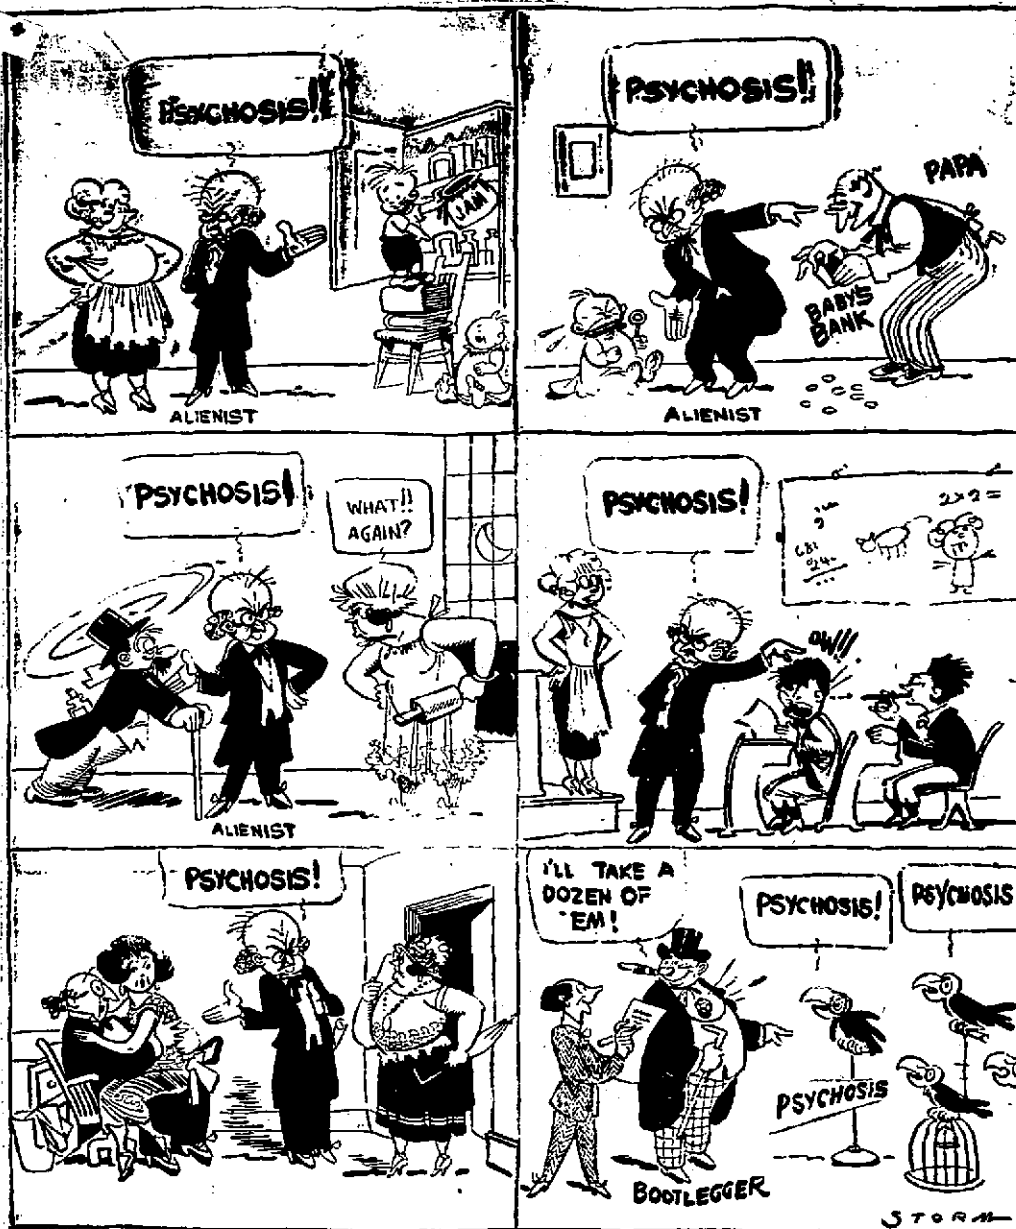

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 20—A stiff wind sweeping across the bay here today caused postponement again of the flight of the American around the world aviators.

The aviators probably will attempt to take off for Fredericksdal, Greenland tomorrow.

America's air adventurers probably will not land on home shores before September 1, owing to delays from storms and mishaps to the two airplanes.

Admiral Magruder, aboard the U. S. S. Richmond wireless the aviators here that the Richmond would stop at dawn 80 miles from Reykjavik and lower two seaplanes which will carry the needed repair parts for the around the world airplanes. Sending the repair parts by the seaplanes will save three hours.

GIVES METHOD TO CONTROL WORMS

Dr. Wickwire, Government Agent, Recommends Rotation of Hog Lots as Farmer Rotates Crops

IN COUNTY FOR TEN DAYS

Use Farmers Make of His Time Depends on Benefit Derived, County Agent Points Out

"There are three things that tend to make hog raising unprofitable—breed, feed and disease, and our object is to find the disease and suggest remedies."

This was the statement at a meeting of farmers at Webb School house Tuesday evening by Dr. Wickwire, a government veterinarian, who is spending ten days in Rush county to conduct a sanitation campaign among hog producers.

The first day of the campaign, which opened Monday, was spent in Noble township, and Tuesday and part of today in Rushville township. A meeting similar to the one last night will be held at Gowdy tonight. This afternoon two farm demonstrations were held near Rushville.

"Dr. Wickwire is a government employee and Rush county has been allotted ten days of his time," Herschel VanMatre, county agent, stated today. "The benefits derived from his visit depend upon the way we make use of his time."

Farmers who wish to consult with Dr. Wickwire are urged to get in touch with the county agent.

Hogs are free from worms at birth, Dr. Wickwire explained at the Webb meeting, but pick them up in the form of eggs from the ground in their feed, having been deposited by the older hogs. The eggs hatch in the hog's digestive tract, get into the blood stream and then the liver, heart and lungs, according to the veterinarian.

The worms spend considerable time in the lungs and grow from one-sixteenth to one-half an inch in length, he said. They are then coughed up by the hog through the windpipe into the back of the mouth and are swallowed back into the digestive tract. There they settle down and make a growth sometimes a foot long.

"This is the life history of the round worm," Dr. Wickwire stated. "One female can lay 80 million eggs and it is nothing uncommon where

HE SEES NO DEGREE OF RESPONSIBILITY

Assistant State's Attorney Resumes Argument in Hearing on Franks Murder Case

LEOPOLD VIEWS DISCUSSED

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 20—"There is no degree of responsibility and if responsibility exists at all it exists for all purposes," Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Marshall declared today in resuming his argument before Chief Justice John R. Caverly that Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb are fully responsible for their killing of Robert Franks, 14-year-old school boy.

Taking up Leopold, Marshall said that the youthful prisoner asserted himself to be a superman and above the law.

"It was said that if Leopold thought it right to commit a murder, so far as he was concerned, it was all right," Marshall said. "What he did was alright because he did it. The law had no application to him."

Marshall likened Leopold's attitude toward the law to the Pies case of about 35 years ago, when seven anarchists set off a huge bomb on the west side here, killing several people. Marshall said that two of the conspirators were hanged. He pointed out that the conspirators had substantially the same views of the law as Leopold.

CONTRACT TO PAVE FIFTH STREET LET

Andrews Asphalt Co., Only Bidder, Expects to Complete Improvement by November 1

HAS MORGAN STREET JOB

Petition For Paving of Fourth Street From Perkins to Harrison Presented to Council

The contract for paving Fifth street was awarded Tuesday night at the regular session of the city council, when the Andrews Asphalt Paving Company of Hamilton, O., was the only bidder, and their bid amounting to practically $13,000 was accepted.

At the same time a petition, asking for the paving of Fourth street, from Perkins to Harrison street, was presented and signed by several property owners living on the street. On account of the C. I. & W. railroad going down the center of this street, no action was taken on the petition last night, pending the investigation of the franchise that the railroad has.

The paving of Fifth street, from Harrison east to Perkins with asphalt will commence soon, according to a representative of the company, and the work will be completed by November 1. The contractor is the same firm that has the Morgan street asphalt paving job.

The Fourth street paving proposition will be considered as soon as the franchise can be found. If the railroad possesses only a right-of-way, the street can be paved from curb to curb, including the portion between the ties.

The garbage bids were opened, and three men offered bids. The bid of Joe Caldwell, present garbage collector, was accepted. His bid was $825 for the year. The other bids were Frank Hutson, $965 and R. F. Powell, $840.

On account of the failure to receive the $4,800 loan advertised for this week, the council will make another attempt to secure the money for the general fund, and will receive bids again on September 2, at ten o'clock.

The new water well located south of Rushville has been completed and the test is unusually high. The next step is to pump the water into the city reservoir, and bids will be received at the next meeting of the

PARK LIGHT PLAN WELL UNDER WAY

Better Business Organization Makes Contract With Dill Foundry Company of This City

LIGHT COMPLETE FOR $50

Fraternal Orders, Business and Commercial Bodies Asked to Donate a Light Post

First Contribution

W. W. Potts, 6427 West 23rd Street, Chicago, is the first person to donate to the fund for the park lighting plan. Mr. Potts, while camping at the grounds in Memorial park one day last week, heard about the proposed plan, and he wanted to be the first to offer a contribution. He gave Park Custodian a dollar bill and told him to give it to the proper person.

The plan to install pedestal lights along the Memorial park boulevard that is now under construction, has taken another step, and the Better Rush County Organization today appealed to Commercial, civic, fraternal, religious organizations and individuals, asking for their support.

The plan is to install 33 of the light posts, commencing at Ninth street, and running along the boulevard to North Main street, and an attractive price has been arranged with the Dill Foundry company of this city.

The local foundry company will mould the light posts, which will have one light at the top, wire them and completely equip them, and furnish the under ground wire cable for $50 a light. The city will mount them, and attach the wires.

When the movement was first originated, several lodges and church organizations in the city wanted to donate a light post, and it is upon this plan that an attempt will be made to have the attractive lights installed for the entire length of the park boulevard, a distance of about 3 1/2 miles.

The light posts will probably be placed between the driveway and the park, and in this way they will throw an additional supply of light into the park. As the park commences at

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20—The date when Benjamin F. Burris, state superintendent of public instruction, will resign that position to become president of the Muncie branch of the Indiana State Normal School was still undecided today.

He held a conference with Governor Branch Tuesday but they could reach no decision. Some time ago he indicated his desire to resign September 1 but this was forestalled by objections of schoolmen to appointment of H. N. Sherwood, of Franklin to complete the term.

DAWES ATTACKS SEN. LAFOLLETTE

Republican Nominee For Vice President Brands LaFollette and Bryan as "Radicals"

GIVES NOMINATING SPEECH

States LaFollette Has Platform Demanding Public Ownership of Railroads and Attacks Courts

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Aug. 20—Acting as the spear-head of the Republican battle lines in the northwest, Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominee for vice president, has initiated a vigorous attack on Senator Robert M. LaFollette, candidate for president on the independent ticket and on Governor Charles W. Bryan, vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket. Dawes branded them as "radicals". He attacked LaFollette for attempting to tamper with the Constitution.

In his speech accepting the nomination, delivered last night on the broad grounds of the Dawes mansion in Evanston, Chicago suburb, Dawes dealt with only a few issues, devoting himself largely to an assault on LaFollette and on the "one radical candidate on the Democratic ticket."

"Robert N. LaFollette, leading the army of extreme radicalism, has a platform demanding public ownership of railroads and attacking our courts, which are a fundamental and Constitutional safeguard of American citizenship," Dawes said.

"Our nation is asked to leave important Constitutional moorings to embark again into those contests through which it has fought up to the establishment of good government. Through the war of the revolution, through which it has fought up to the World war, our people have struggled to maintain our Constitutional principles. They are asked to follow into an attack upon them massed behind an aggressive personality, a heterogeneous collection of those opposing the existing order of things, the greatest section of which, the socialists, flies the red flag, and into what? Into confusion and conflict of ideas and ideals and into the re-opening of war upon those fundamental principles of human liberty and the inalienable rights of men which are giving in this country safety and opportunity to the humblest, and to establish which the blood of our forefathers was shed. This is the predominant

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gartner Of Cincinnati Narrowly Escape Death When Driver Loses Control

DRIVING AT A RAPID RATE

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gartner of Cincinnati narrowly escaped death when a large Nash sedan they were driving from the factory at Kenosha, Wis., turned over near the Charles Johnson farm, four miles west of Rushville on the state road, about five o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Gartner suffered a severely injured right shoulder, a bad laceration of the right arm and possibly some fractured ribs, in addition to many serious bruises on her body. Two of Mr. Gartner's ribs were fractured and he was severely injured on the head.

They had recovered sufficiently, so that they expected to return by rail to their home this afternoon.

Mr. Gartner was driving at a rapid rate of speed and lost control of the car when he attempted to pass another machine after going around a state highway department truck and road drag.

The sedan had the appearance of having turned completely over. The body was caved in on the right side and both fenders were mashed and the body was also scratched on the right side. Oil had run out of the crank case, indicating that the auto was upside down.

Mr. Gartner is an agent of the Nash Cincinnati Motor Co., Nash dealers.

The Lord is good—Serve the Lord with gladness; come before His presence with singing. For the Lord is good: His mercy is everlasting: and his truth endureth to all generations.—Psalm 100: 2, 5.

Prayer:—Our Father, we know that Thou art good, and that Thou art more willing to give us Thy Spirit than an earthly parent is to give good gifts unto his children.

Home Issues

The presidential campaign in the United States, now in full swing, is to be fought out on home issues.

And well that it may, because the citizens of the United States are more concerned about their government at home than they should be about relations with neighboring nations, though it is an essential part of the government's function to maintain peaceful relations with other groups of peoples.

President Coolidge has declared for "common sense in government", and it will be the campaign slogan of the republicans in the continuation of administration efforts to put more economy in government.

John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, put foremost in his campaign keynote, "Honesty in Government", thus injecting into the campaign the oil scandals which resulted in the resignation of three members of the cabinet whom President Coolidge "inherited" from his predecessor.

Senator LaFollette, running as an independent candidate, wants the "government returned to the people".

The more hopeful situation in Europe, brought about by the part of London, in which the reparations tangle was settled with the aid of the Dawes-Young plan, practically eliminates foreign relations from the campaign and leaves the candidates free to do battle on home issues.

All this should work for betterment of the government, if the attention of the people can be focused for a few days on that which they take all too much for granted.

It may be possible to impress upon them that the government is in a measure a living thing, that it was not built according to a certain plan, but is elastic and grows and develops to suit the changing needs of the people.

Quoting the Bible

A southern manufacturer, writing a letter against prohibition to the Manufacturers Record, says: "We are commanded to eat and drink to-day for tomorrow we die."

The Record points to the utter folly of the man in thinking that he was quoting the Bible, for this reference was to the Jews, who failing to follow the warning of the prophet, and full of hiality, said: "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die."

It was not a commandment, but people have a failing of quoting the Bible to suit their purpose.

The way the scriptures are misinterpreted and disconnected passages brought together to uphold some particular view, might be illustrated in the old saying, showing harm that may be done by misplacing Scriptural passages:

"Judas went out and hanged himself."

"Go thou and do likewise."

Fourth Street Paving

A petition for the paving of Fourth street from Perkins to Harrison streets was presented to the city council Tuesday night and councilmen are said to be considering the advisability of having plans drawn, if the petition is acted upon favorably calling for the paving of a small strip on each side of the C. I. & W. railroad.

This would undoubtedly be a mistake not to include the whole street in the improvement plan, and thus make it possible to get out of Fourth street the use that has been denied the people of the city because of the way the railroad cuts down the middle of the thoroughfare.

If Fourth street were paved from curb to curb, it would be of great service in solving the automobile parking problem that is growing more difficult of solution every day.

The condition the street is now in makes it useless for parking because the railroad utilizes practically half of the space.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY R. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—To the born fighting man, years or occasions do not count. At any age, under any circumstances, he is ready for battle.

Nelson A. Miles, for instance, who at the age of 25 was a brigadier general commanding an army corps, and at 26 a major general, cited for conspicuous gallantry at Roanoke Station, Chancellorsville and Spottsylvania Court House, at the age of 85 still instinctively reaches for a gun when the occasion seems to demand.

General Miles, retired from the army for now a score of years, lives in an apartment house midway between the War Department and the Army and Navy Club. But 20 odd years of theoretical retirement has not dimmed his fighting spirit.

EARLY on the morning of Aug. 6, just two days before Miles' 85th birthday, the watchmen in the apartment house heard the sound of running water in the general's apartment. Thinking a pipe had burst, they first tried to rouse the occupants of the apartment by ringing the bell and pounding on the door. This failing, they decided no one was at home, and proceeded in an attempt to force the door.

They hadn't proceeded far in this, however, when they got the shock of their lives.

The muzzles of a couple of business-looking guns suddenly protruded through the transom and a coldly business-like voice informed them:

"One move more out there and I'll blow your brains out."

GENERAL MILES, the man who rounded up Sitting Bull, Natchez, Crazy Horse and Geronimo, was on the other end of the guns.

He had been sleeping soundly, and the bell ringings and rappings had not awakened him. But the attempts to force the door did. No fort he ever held had ever been taken, by storm, and he rallied to the defense in true military style. The real reaction of a real fighting man!

THE "girl with the pull" is the bane of the government's bureau chiefs.

These young ladies, normally among the more pulchritudinous, usually land their jobs largely on the recommendation of senators or representatives who know them or their families "back home" and who are interested in seeing them taken care of on the government pay roll.

In many cases girls so placed prove efficient and valuable. In many others, however, the official pull that has helped them in a job is counted on to save the job for them, no matter whether they work or play.

It is among this group that the larger number of "A. W. O. L." workers are found. They go on the theory that the "boss" won't dare fire them for their delinquency, because if he does "Senator So-and-So" will see that he gets his.

AND the joke of it is that it does work. Only in the more flagrant cases does the bureau head invite the enmity of a senator or congressman by firing an employee known to be a congressional "pet."

An unusually flagrant case, still within the memory of most Washingtonians, had to do with a young lady who obtained her position by intercession of no less a personage than the then-occupant of the White House himself.

After an unusually warm warning against her absences and idleness, this young woman frankly told her chief:

"You don't dare fire me. If you do the president will have me reinstated."

Not to be bluffed, the bureau chief attached the official "can." But the girl made good her claim. The next week she was "reinstated."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Friday, Aug. 20, 1909

Lieut. Gov. Frank J. Hall was elected president of the Old Settlers' Association at the annual meeting held at the fair grounds yesterday. Alvin R. Holden is the new secretary and Joseph R. Woods was re-elected treasurer.

At the meeting of the First Baptist church last evening Pastor E. C. Myers, James Alsop and Mrs. J. W. Gartin were elected as delegates to represent this church at the Flat Rock Baptist Association which meets at Burney, Decatur county, Indiana, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Congratulations are in order, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Saniter." This is the telegram from Brooklyn, N. Y., which Miss Lenore Norris read at her home in North Morgan street with a feeling partially of surprise and expectancy. Mrs. E. H. Saniter was formerly Miss Mamie Kemp of this city. She, accompanied by Misses Daisy Beale and Marie Clark, left one week ago yesterday for a pleasure trip to Atlantic City, but now Misses Beale and Clark will be compelled to return home as Mrs. Saniter will remain in her beautiful new Brooklyn home, which her husband had prepared ready to move into as soon as they were married.

The old Guy Kelson farm, consisting of 150 acres, owned by James E. Watson, Dr. F. G. Hackleman and Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, was sold yesterday to the Barber brothers.

Theo. H. Reed & Son are paying the following prices for grain: July wheat, $1.02; Corn, through elevator 64; new oats, 32; timothy seed, 1.50. Other prices are, spring chickens per pound 12; hens on foot, 11; eggs, 18; butter, 17.

Harry McMillin is all smiles today as the result of a new arrival at his home in North Main street. A seven and one-half pound girl was born to Mrs. McMillin this morning. The mother and child are doing nicely.

Mrs. Bliss entertained the Bridge Whist club at her home in North Perkins street Thursday afternoon.

The directors of the Rush county Chautauqua association held a meeting this afternoon to make plans for next year. A balance of $182 was reported from this year's chautauqua.

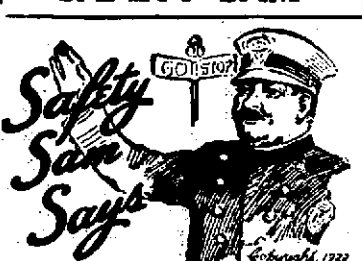

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hodge went to Indianapolis this morning in Mr. Caldwell's machine to attend the automobile races.

Mrs. Earl Musselman and daughter and Mrs. Bert McBride returned to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon after a visit here with relatives.

Fair stuff is beginning to keep the east pike hot and dusty. Several race horse men took their stuff to the grounds today and other attractions are beginning to come.

Byron Mauzy, formerly of this city, was defeated in the mayoralty race at San Francisco Tuesday.

U.S. Royal Cords

BALLOON ~ BALLOON-TYPE ~ HIGH PRESSURE
Built of Latex-treated Cords

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

FOOTBALL TRAINING CAMP OPENS AUG. 25

Plans are Going Forward Among High School Athletes in Indiana to Attend This Camp

TO BE AT CAMP CROSSLEY

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20—Plans are going forward among high school athletes in Indiana to attend the second high school football training camp to be held at Camp Crossley, Tippecanoe Lake, Aug. 25 to Sept. 5.

The idea of having high school athletes attend a football camp where they are taught the rudiments of the game originated with H. C. Pettijohn, boys' work secretary of Muncie Y. M. C. A. and former Wabash college football star.

Pettijohn's idea in holding the camp was to teach the younger players the rudiments of the grid game, and in this way prevent injuries to the players. Most of the accidents to high school players result from their unfamiliarity of the game and their ignorance of the methods to protect themselves in the playing, according to coaches in the colleges teams.

The camp this year will be open to any high school football candidate. Among the coaches who will assist in training the boys are Knute Rockne, Notre Dame; Pete Vaughn, of Wabash, and Heze Clark of Rose Polytechnic.

Boys' camp Crossley started June 23 and was held continuously throughout the summer. The attendance was nearly double that of any previous season.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

New York—Sid Terris, New York junior lightweight, won a ten round decision from Benny Valgar, New York. Tony Vaccarelli, New York featherweight and Mickey Brown, went ten fast rounds to a draw.

Loraine, O.—Batting Siki meets Mike Conroy, Rochester heavyweight in the main bout of the Loraine benefit show tonight at Krohn field near here.

Fremont, O.—Harry Greb, middleweight champion, is ready to defend his title against Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro here tomorrow night. Greb has completed training and is the favorite to win.

Louisville, Ky.—One of the few times in history two fighters of the same name will meet in the ring here. Labor Day when Eddie O'Dowd, Columbus bantam, and Tim O'Dowd of Atlanta, featherweight champion of the south are scheduled for a 12 round bout.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Ed Brown, Brooklyn outfielder, hit a homer in the eighth with one and beat the Pirates, 4-3.

Bunching hits in the pinches, the Giants beat the Reds 6-2 and increased their lead over the Pirates to four games.

Washington moved into second place by taking a doubleheader from the Tigers 4-3, and 5-3. Manager Buck Harris drove in the run in the ninth inning that won the first game.

George Uhle, pinch hitting in the ninth, smacked out a homer but the Athletics beat the Indians, 5-3 and took the series.

Flagstead's homer in the seventh inning with two on helped the Red Sox beat the Browns 11 to 5. Jacobson drove in three St. Louis runs with two doubles.

A Word To Women

A hundred and twenty-one thousand women would comprise a vast army. Yet a canvass was recently made among more than that number of women who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for feminine ailments. The result proved that ninety-eight out of every hundred reported benefit from its use. This is most remarkable evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of woman-kind, and should influence every sick and ailing woman to try it.

United States Will Win in 1928

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) New York, Aug. 20—When the American athletes were leaving the Colombes stadium after the completion of the recent Olympic games, a prominent official of the British team said:

"We'll all have to wait now for four years to resume the European battle for second places."

This statement expressed rather strikingly the feeling that the foreign nations have about the athletic strength of the United States. While American coaches are sounding warnings about the danger of a decline in strength that might cause a defeat in Amsterdam in 1928, the European officials and coaches lean the other way and expect to see a stronger team sail from the United States for Holland.

Because some European nations figure Americans as the champion horn-blowers of the world, there is something to be admired in the modesty that prompts the American coaches to point out that we are not advancing as rapidly as some of the younger foreign athletic nations, but facts and figures do not warrant any such pessimism about the next games.

The team that won the championship in Paris was a stronger and better balanced team than the 1920 team which cleaned up in Antwerp. The track and field team scored more points and won more first places against harder opposition and under more trying circumstances than the 1920 team did in Antwerp.

The Americans won the boxing and tennis tournaments, two events that were not won in Antwerp. The 1920 boxing team had to be content with second place and there was no American entry in the tennis matches.

While the Americans won the boxing championship in Paris, they won only two division titles, while they won three in Antwerp. The failure of Eddie Egan, the former Yale boxing captain, to win the heavyweight championship was a disappointment and a blow to the team. It was not his fault, Egan is a student at Oxford, and he had so much scholastic work that he was unable to train enough and he was not in good condition. He also was handicapped with a mental hazard as he was robbed of $350 the night before the contests started and he was depending upon the money to keep him in England until the university opens in the fall.

If the American team was stronger this year than it was four years ago, there is no good reason why it should not be stronger in another four years. There is no reason to believe that the United States is declining physically, and as long as coaches have sound specimens to work on they should get better results as the science of coaching and the method of training are constantly improving.

The importance of coaching and training was well illustrated by the failure of Sweden to live up to expectations at Paris. The Swedish team of 1920 was coached by Eric Hjertberg, and it was a most formidable team. Many of the Americans at the close of the Antwerp games predicted that Finland and Sweden would make it extremely hard for our team in Paris. But the Swedes did not retain Hjertberg. He went to Holland and turned out a team that was the big surprise of the games. With the exception of Wide, a great, little runner, and Christensen, a hurdler who really was developed in the United States last year, the Swedes did not have a dangerous competitor.

"The Fighting Coward"

Versatility is a much-abused word, but an actor who can rise to screen fame and popularity by graphically portraying characters ranging from deep-dyed villains to virile and heroic he-men and inimitable comedians is versatile.

Such is Ernest Torrence, the "Jackson" of "The Covered Wagon," Cousin Egbert of "Ruggles of Red Gap," and now "Gen. Orlando Jackson" in "The Fighting Coward," which opens today at the Princess theatre. Oddly enough, Torrence, who first gained fame on the screen in powerful but villainous characters, was a comedian of international note on the stage. In real life, he is known to his intimates as the most genial and kindly of men. Conjure in your imagination a man portraying such characters, who has been and still is a master musician and singer, a musical comedy and farce comedian of Broadway fame.

Torrence is said to have his greatest role since "The Covered Wagon" in "The Fighting Coward." His "Gen. Jackson" is that of a gambler, fighting man, who takes a fancy to a young fellow, who has ambitions to be considered a dangerous gun-fighter. The picture is an adaptation by Walter Woods of the stage play, "Magnolia," by Booth Tarkington. Featured with Torrence are Mary Astor, Noah Beery, Phyllis Haver and Cullen Landis, and other include Bruce Covington, G. Raymond Nye, Richard Neal, Carmen Phillips, Helen Dunbar and Frank Jopasson.

Ninth street, the plan now is to start the lighting system at Ninth street, and extend north. The boulevard driveway is being extended in a measure to Ninth street, and when completed will be quite an addition to the park.

The Better Rush County organization today appealed to the lodges of the city, asking that they donate a light post. Business concerns, including factories and groups of business men, are asked to contribute a post, as well as other organizations and clubs in the city. Individuals who have the interests of the city at heart, are also asked to contribute a post or two.

The Dill Foundry company has figured the cost at the lowest level because of the slack season now, and the price is the best offered by any concern in the state. The light posts will be similar to the down-town posts, excepting that they will have only one light, instead of five.

The price of $50 includes the entire post, globe and wiring. The cost also includes the under ground cable for the electricity. The labor will be supplied by the city, and the electricity and future upkeep will be taken care of by the city.

GIVES METHOD TO CONTROL WORMS

hogs are raised several years in the same place, to find from 200 to 300 worms in a short three to five months old.

The method of control he suggested was rotation of hogs lots just as a farmer rotates his crops.

The object sought in the campaign it is stated, is to lessen the ravages of the round worm and place swine breeding and feeding on a safer and saner basis.

council on the purchase of an electric pump to be installed at the well. A petition signed by several property owners living in East Tenth street, asked the city to lower the sewer system down the street, in order to afford better cellar drainage and to give the people of that portion of the street adequate sewerage.

The council took no action on the petition in view of the fact that the engineer declares it an impossible feat to lower the sewer, which would make the water go up hill. The council also has no direct supervision over the sewer system, because it is not owned by the city, but is owned by the property owners.

The water and light committee was given power to act in building a store house for supplies, which was recently recommended by the state board of accounts at the plant. The addition of a book keeper and store keeper at the plant will also be required and the committee will make an appointment in a few days, and a former employee at the plant is considered, because of his acquaintance with the operations.

A petition for a street light at Oliver street, near the Norris Fertilizer factory, was presented, and the matter turned over to the committee to investigate.

The council also voted to reduce the salary of John Singer, city street sweeper in the business district, from $20 a week to $15.

CITY TAX RATE IS RAISED 23 CENTS

firemen on account of the purchase of an additional fire truck.

One member of the police force will be given a vacation sometime during the year. The budget for this year was for $4,000 and for next year it is figured at $3,750. The salaries of the present police force figures $4,250 a year, while the new budget shows a shortage over this year. The shortage would indicate that some member of the force was not figured as having an all year job.

The rate of $1.03 includes a 3 cent levy for the Rushville library, which rate was asked by the board, and had to be given.

The councilmen contend that on account of the failure of the bond issue recently asked for, in which $30,000 was demanded and only $14,500 granted, that this $15,000 shortage is one of the causes for the higher rate for next year.

The rain was of great benefit to the corn crop, according to the local weather bureau.

Comparatively little property damage was reported, but interurban schedules were disrupted on some of the lines out of Indianapolis. Nearly 500 cases of trouble were reported to the Indiana Bell Telephone company.

The heaviest downpour was at Martinsville, where three and one third inches fell. Columbus had 2.60 inches.

DAWES ATTACKS SEN. LAFOLLETTE

issue in this campaign.

Characterizing the Republican party as "the party of progressive conservatism," Dawes said:

"Lying, between these two armies of progressive conservatism and of radicalism, which are properly aligned upon this issue in the minds and conscience of the American people, is interposed the Democratic party with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue."

"In this situation, for which the American people alone are responsible, the Democratic party, as a party, instead of recruiting itself from the two battle lines, will suffer only the fate which befalls those who try to straddle in a real fight."

Dawes said that the Republican party, under the leadership of President Coolidge, has taken its stand firmly on the Constitution.

"Opposed to it, and in reality its chief, opponent, though the result may be to deadlock the contest for the presidency and make Bryanism succeed the Coolidge policy, is a movement of untried and dangerous radicalism," Dawes declared.

"With a platform drawn by one man, designed to soften as much as possible the apprehension as to what the movement really means, an attempt is made to induce those who are patriotic of heart but discontented with existing conditions, to join with the Socialists and other diverse elements opposing the existing order of things in a mobilization of extreme radicalism."

"A man is known by the company he keeps."

Dawes then called attention to the endorsement of LaFollette by the Socialist party.

On August 29 Dawes will invade the home territory of Governor Bryan with a speech in Lincoln, Neb. There he will discuss the non-partisan and economic agricultural question, which he said is of such vital importance to the national welfare, that he could not discuss it here and give it the full consideration it demands.

Dismissing the League of Nations, Dawes pointed to the enormous Republican majority in 1920 as a conclusive mandate of the American people against membership. However, he pointed out that:

"The League of Nations, however noble may have been its intentions, was not approved by the people of the United States because it did not make clear to their minds that it did not encroach upon the sovereignty and the power and right of independent decision of the United States as to its own duty and action under all circumstances."

"While many men, after study, believed that the League of Nations did not encroach upon the sovereignty and rights of independent decision by the United States, the fact that there was just doubt as to this stamped the plan as one which could not be accepted by the citizens of the United States."

Dawes made a plan for a membership of the world court pointing out:

"Even when we join the court, we are not compelled to submit a case to it if we do not wish to do so."

The sovereignty of the United States is fully safeguarded "in the propositions of President Coolidge in connection with the world court," Dawes said.

Dawes lauded President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes for their attitude toward the world of the American experts in preparing a basis for settlement of the reparations questions. But for this attitude Europe might not today be facing away from chaos and hatred of war, he said. With the expert plan inaugurated, all Europe will turn toward a new era of peaceful life and the United States will be saved from the depths of a great depression which the continued chaos of Europe would entail, Dawes said.

"In the matter of our foreign policy, the two major parties in their platform have made an issue to be decided by the American people," Dawes asserted.

The Democratic party asks the people to "turn back with them into the morop of the debate on the League of Nations," by putting the question to a public referendum, Dawes said, while the Republican party asks the people to abandon the debate and stand on President Coolidge's foreign policy.

Dawes praised the administration's economies in conducting the government and lauded President Coolidge for signing the income tax reduction measure in the face of much opposition.
